RED LIGHT ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM ADDS NEW INTERSECTION

End of Warning Period

On February 10, 2009, the Redding Police Department activated red light cameras at the intersection of Pine Street and Tehama Street. This particular intersection has seen a high number of violations and serious broadside collisions over the years.

Beginning March 12, 2009, at 12:01 a.m., the warning period will end and citations will be issued to violators. The Redding Police Department encourages drivers to use caution and obey all traffic laws, including red light violations.
